

Newly Designed 2006 American Eagle Platinum Proof Coins Available March 24

March 23, 2006

WASHINGTON – The United States Mint announced today that the 2006 American Eagle Platinum Proof Coins will be available for sale on March 24, 2006, at 12:00 noon (ET).

The new 2006 reverse design is the first in a three-year series entitled The Foundations of American Democracy which celebrates the branches of government in the order they appear in the United States Constitution. The design features a "Legislative Muse" inscribing the Nation's law, flanked by twin pillars upon which eagles are perched, symbolizing the strength and wisdom that eternally guard the law-making process.

The "Legislative Muse," designed by United States Mint Artistic Infusion Program Master Designer Joel Iskowitz of Woodstock, NY, is inspired by, and based upon, the marble statue entitled "The Car of History" by Carlo Franzoni. The figure of Clio, the Muse of History, combined with studio drawings from life, attempts to reincarnate this allegorical figure into the Muse, or Scribe, of the Legislative Branch of government. The composition includes eagles perched atop Corinthian columns, representing the chambers of the Senate and the House of Representatives. United States Mint Sculptor-Engraver Don Everhart executed the design.

The coin's obverse remains unchanged. Designed by United States Mint Sculptor-Engraver John Mercanti, the obverse features Lady Liberty, evoking the spirit of freedom with her serene gaze, her face and crown seemingly lit by the torch she holds. The coin bears the "W" mint mark of the United States Mint at West Point.

The American Eagle Platinum Proof Coin reverse will feature designs commemorating the Executive Branch in 2007 and the Judicial Branch in 2008.

Platinum values affect overall production costs for this program, and the newly adjusted prices are listed below.
